NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H R Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

MONDAY MORNING APRIL 4 1870

Moral Aspects of Repudiation

A nation that would sanction a policy at once so perfidious and flagitious as that demanded by the Democratic party of Oregon in reference to the national debt would be scarcely a day's march from its grave. Such an act would indicate so low a state of public morals, so complete an abjuration of the principles of good faith, honor and moral rectitude, on which alone a nation can stand, that there would indeed be small hope for any people who should perpetrate it. The party in this country that would repudiate the national debt would not stop at that daring outrage. The next step would be a declaration of war on all property. If the national creditors are despoiled the very same arguments that would justify it would also justify an attack on all accumulations of property that might tempt the rapacity or excite the envy of the American Jacobins who have made in this Oregon platform the first distinct and emphatic announcement of their intentions.

The doctrines of this platform violate the rights upon which all communities are founded. The issue raised is not an ordinary question of party difference, and if it should carry, it would not be a victory of party over party. It would be the commencement of a destruction and decomposition of the whole society, and could not happen without the most terrible consequences both in the act and in the example. A party standing on such a platform is building on wrong, and would perpetuate itself by robbery, and if it were in the ascendant throughout the country the foundations of the whole body politic would be shaken.

"The body politic," says Burke, that greatest master of political wisdom, "exists in the dignity of the state, in the honor of the people, in the sanctity with which they regard their obligations, in the reverence of justice, and in the weight and consideration due to the rights of men and the rights of property. All these particular moleculae united, form the great mass of what is truly the body politic in all countries." But the body politic as thus constituted a party in our country would assail, sapping and mining its foundations, weakening its hold in the reverence of the people, and so demoralizing and corrupting it that its moral strength and cohesive power will be wholly destroyed. Let no one suppose that this perfidious policy could be adopted toward the national creditors without bringing ruin on all the material interests of the country, and worse than that, corrupting the people to such an extent that society would be stripped of all its defences and prepared for rapid disintegration. The advocates of this scheme attempt to put it on the ground of justice and right, and profess to believe that it would be for the good of the country. Such an opinion, even if it be sincerely entertained, deserves not refutation as absurd, but pity as insane.

In its business aspects, as affecting the credit and prosperity of the country, this scheme of repudiation would be disastrous; in its moral aspects it would be still more terrible and destructive. It is an attack on the very foundations of all organized society, and the people have only to look at it with judgment and candor to see the danger.

Reckless as to Consequences

They who meddle ignorantly with great things never trouble themselves about consequences. Devoted wholly to their narrow ideas, they never stop to consider the probable or certain results of their action. That would imply a doubt of their own wisdom, and no such doubt can enter their minds. It would be the last thing under the sun they could ever entertain a doubt upon.

It is particularly observable that no one who has attempted to expound the Democratic platform and to justify its assault on the national debt has ever stopped to consider for an instant the effect which such a policy would have on the credit of the United States. That is something they have never taken into account. At present the securities of the United States are about at par with gold in all the markets of the world. What would they be worth if the whole country should declare for the policy proposed by the Democratic party of Oregon? Their value would be about that of common waste paper. Such statesmen as Ben Hayden no doubt would think this a very desirable thing, inasmuch as it would then be extremely easy to pay them.

Laying out of view the peculiar style of morality indicated here, it is proper to inquire what the effect would be upon the future credit of the United States. Who would lend money to the United States hereafter? Not a dollar could be borrowed for any purpose whatever. Our own citizens would refuse to lend money to so faithless a Government. No foreign people would advance us money on any terms. Not being able to borrow anywhere we could never provide for the emergencies of war, and would therefore be at the mercy of any power that might assail us. The party that would break down our credit would strip the country of its only means of defense and throw it open to the assaults of every rival power. But the Democratic politician who assails the public credit never thinks of these things, or at all events he pays no attention to them. He wants to repudiate and cares not for consequences.

Editorial Notes

A Democratic newspaper, to be called the Democratic Phantom is announced in California. The negro for years acted in that capacity, but as the Fifteenth Amendment has been ratified it is necessary to have a new "phantom" for the "only party that has a history."

The public debt statement shows a decrease of five million seven hundred and sixty six thousand dollars for the month of March. Another startling proof for the Oregon repudiators that the debt can never be paid! Each and every month since Grant became President has shown a decrease of several millions and the good work will go on.

We see that the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville railroad bill is under debate in the House, having been reported to that body by the proper Committee. Two or three days ago the Herald charged Senator Williams with inveracity for having telegraphed that the House Committee had agreed to report it. The Herald always knows!

B F Dowell writes from Washington to the Jacksonville Sentinel: "The railroad era has just commenced if we continue to send Republicans to Congress. But send a few more Democratic Senators like Mr Casserly of California, who opposes every land grant, and we will get no legislation on the subject. Oregonians and the citizens of all the States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains may ride mules and white-eyed Cayuse horses as long as they live. This might suit the bed rock repudiating wing of the Oregon Democracy who now control their party here, but it will not suit the active intelligent enterprising spirit of our State."

Dispatches to-day state that five million dollars of the bonds of the Oregon and California railroad have been negotiated in Europe. It would be highly Democratic to repudiate these bonds under the doctrine of equitable adjustment, but as this is not the way honest men do things we may presume that the bonds will be paid in the plain simple old way when they fall due.

Last week an order came by telegraph from the Supervising Architect at Washington to Superintendent Hogue at the Dalles instructing him to commence work at once on the Branch Mint and pay to workmen the customary wages of the country. It is understood that work will be resumed during the present month on the other Government buildings in the State, notwithstanding the declaration made by Col Kelly last week that nothing more would ever be done to them.

The cohesive strength of the Republican party was strikingly exemplified in the New Hampshire election. Notwithstanding the various devices employed, as the temperance movement, labor reform, etc, to draw off votes from the Republicans, yet fully the average vote was thrown for the Republican candidates, while the Democratic vote fell off several thousands. The people are with the Republican party. That party embodies all the active, energetic, progressive forces of the nation.

This delightful bit of self complacent egotism is from the little Democratic hand organ at Corvallis: "The Republican party of Benton county is making its main fight against the Mercury and 'Upton of the Mercury,' and will not be comforted." This is quite worthy of that master of self laudation, the renowned B B of the Salem Press. It is edifying, indeed, to observe that "Upton of the Mercury" is so content with himself and that as his own admirer he is likely never to have a rival.

The Herald would pretend that the remarks we made to the effect that, as it enjoyed for so long a period an extravagant subsidy from the city government it has no right to complain of municipal extravagance, is an indication that we have "changed round," and are now defending an increase of salaries, when it must know that our remark will bear no such construction. We protested against the increase in the case already passed upon and protest against a further increase in any case. But the Herald cannot consistently utter such protests for the reason that there has been more wasteful expenditure in the city printing, which it has long enjoyed, than in any other matter whatever.

The Albany Democrat declares that the Democratic platform "embodies no such proposition as repudiation, and such a charge made against the Democracy of Oregon is slanderous and false." We beg the Democrat not to attempt to weaken our faith in the truthfulness of Slater, Kelly and Fay. These champions all tell us that it means repudiation and nothing else. Slater says it means that fully half the debt should be repudiated, Kelly concurs and adds that if the bondholders do not accept this the whole shall be repudiated at once, while Fay says that he would not only repudiate the whole of it, but would make the bondholders "disgorge" what they have already received. We entreat the Democrat not to call these gentlemen by any such harsh name as liars!

Some of the Democratic papers in speaking of the qualifications of Mr Slater and his sacrifices for the "cause," say that a newspaper of which he was owner and editor, was suppressed by the "Lincoln despotism" early in the war. We do not remember whether any paper owned by Mr Slater was suppressed or not, but we do know that the only papers in this State that were suppressed were suppressed on the recommendations of Senator Nesmith, who was prompted in the matter by persons in Oregon who are now acting with the Democratic party. Copies of the papers were forwarded by these persons to Mr Nesmith, who took them to the War Department and procured their suppression. Let Mr Slater and his friends go to Mr Nesmith for indemnity.

There is a notable paragraph in the dispatches published this morning, to the effect that the emigration from Ireland to the United States is becoming greater than ever before, in consequence, it is said, of the action in the English Parliament upon the bill for the protection of life and property in Ireland. The bill, as we understand it from the telegraphic dispatches, is really a measure of extreme tyranny and is only calculated to rivet more tightly than ever the chains of oppression under which Ireland now groans. It cannot be wondered at that the people of that unfortunate country should begin anew and in multitudes, to turn their eyes toward the only land in the world where they can be assured of freedom and equality of rights. Their long time oppressors in England seem to have gone mad and to be about to adopt a policy of all others best calculated to depopulate Ireland.

GREAT TRADE IN HORNS. The Boston Commercial Bulletin says:

A cargo of horns was landed on one of our wharfs this week direct from California. The number received into Boston annually is immense and they come from very distant lands. South America sends the bulk of them, though many come from Texas and not a few from California. The last lot received numbered 27,000. They are mostly ox horns and are very large. Some buffalo horns are received from Asia but in small quantities. There is quite a speculative business done in these articles and they are put to very many uses unknown to our readers. A short distance from Boston is the factory where these are all sent and at that place they undergo a chemical change by which they are transformed into many articles which are both useful and ornamental—combs, knife handles, paper cutters and buttons. Besides these they are making a great variety of parlor ornaments and pieces of jewelry, some of which is very elegant in its designs. They have a preparation that changes horn into nearly every color, and [illegible] this jewelry bought cheap for pure rubber is made from ox horns and colored.

A WELL MEANT MAN.—The Truckee [illegible] says: A few days since Mr W B Campbell of this place, received the following letter enclosing a one dollar bill:

March 5 18[illegible]

Mr W B Campbell—Sir: You will find enclosed one dollar for pay for toll for crossing your bridge across Bear river in 1860. Please answer this note and let me know that you have received it all right. Yours truly,

After ten years and after getting a thousand miles or more away, then to send a dollar to pay a toll bill lays over anything of the kind we ever heard of. Can any one match this remarkable affair?—Nevada Transcript.

OREGON

The [illegible] has completed its first half volume.

The Methodists are holding a protracted religious meeting at Albany.

Ed Fisk, tried last week at Albany for the killing of Sims, was acquitted by the jury.

It is reported that Raeder, the [illegible] bigamist, has been convicted in the Linn county Circuit Court.

The [illegible] of the Salem University will close next Thursday. There will be public examinations Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Salem Musical [illegible] will [illegible] from the cantata Esther this week, its execution requiring three evenings, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The [illegible] of Salem says Mr J W [illegible] had his arm caught between a belt and pulley at the Capital Lumbering Co's mill on Saturday. The arm was broken in two places.

Mr Jas Quick, delegate for Tillamook county to the Republican State Convention, arrived on Saturday. He is authorized to cast both the Tillamook votes without instructions. He reports snow for twenty miles on the coast range.

The Salem Farmer suggests to the Salem Musical Union the propriety of giving a grand musical concert at the Wigwam during the next State Fair and call to their assistance the entire musical talent of the State, both vocal and instrumental.

From the Albany Register: One of our saloonists, also a member of the City Council, was indicted by the Grand Jury and arrested by the Sheriff on Wednesday for selling liquor to a boy.

Markets dull. Last few days have started farmers to plowing quite generally. Numerous improvements are under way or projected.

On last Wednesday evening, says the McMinnville [illegible], Gen Joel Palmer, Grand Warden of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, assisted by the members of Yamhill Lodge and under authority of J M Bacon, Grand Master, instituted Occidental Lodge, No 30 in this place. There were five charter members, four were admitted by affiliation and two by initiation. A number of members of Lafayette Lodge were present and a few from other sister Lodges.

The [illegible] of March 29, has the following account of an accidental shooting at McMinnville:

"Nearly a fatal accident occurred in this place on last Saturday morning. A son of Mr W Morton, aged about 15 years, took down a rifle and started out of the house to shoot a duck. As he passed out of the house, the lock of the gun caught against the door frame and discharged the piece into the house. The ball grazed the side of Mr Morton about the waist, inflicting a slight wound, and passed through the arm of a younger son aged about 13, just below the elbow, breaking both bones. Dr Johnson was immediately called in and we learn from him that the wounded boy is in a fair way to recover without the loss of his arm."

The Salem Farmer says: "The officers of the State Agricultural Society during the past week effected the purchase of seventy two and a half acres of land adjoining the Fair grounds and additional to that now held by the Society. The land just purchased lies immediately east of the enclosures of the Society and has been used heretofore by visitors for camping purposes, without molestation, the owner, Mr P O Reilly, being a resident of Pennsylvania. Mr O Reilly is here at present for the purpose of selling this and other property. The Society was thus compelled to make the purchase, or see the land pass into the hands of parties who were desirous of buying it, at a higher rate than the price paid ($50 per acre) in order to speculate upon the Society's annual Fair by charging visitors for the privilege of camping on the ground. The transaction above mentioned developed the absolute necessity of the Society's being incorporated, which was effected previous to making the recent purchase."

Pen Photographs of Senators

"Shirley Dare," the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Republican, writes thus about a few Senators:

SUMNER

The first man the new comer asks to see in the Senate is, of course, Charles Sumner. I regret to say that I made faces privately for two weeks at Senator Fowler, of Tennessee, by some odd confusion taking him for the Massachusetts dragon. I'm sorry for it, and I hope each party will take this for an apology. There are a few reasons for not liking the Senator from Massachusetts, but there is one good reason for liking him, namely, that both parties are severe on him just now. A man must have something rarely independent (or obstinate), and pure (or self devoted) and strong (or pugnacious) in his composition, when he is attacked by both parties alike. If this man is domineering, it is because men have liked to be shunted, schooled and lashed by the great clod compeller. Dunces create tyrants. Meanwhile he sits in the Senate like a great faithful hound, casting watchful glances up at the gallery, where every woman who seats herself imagines at one time or other that she is the object of the Senator's scrutiny.

To me the look seems searching for a fact that never appears.

All about the man is negligent neatness. I should like to know who is his tailor, and see why he can't have a pair of trousers that don't wrinkle by being too long over the foot. The dark coat always seems fresh and yet hangs loosely. Every inch of dress is spotless and careless. But I do want to know which month of the session Mr Sumner has his hair cut. This thick iron gray growth always hangs low on his forehead as if to conceal the vast intellect hidden there. His favorite attitude is between the magisterial and rakish, though it never looks ungentlemanly. His legs stuck out straight to full length before him, his hands on the arms of his chair, his lips protruding dubitably, his brow half furrowed between listening and thought, his bright eye fearlessly shooting up to the gallery as if to say, "This is all lessons learned, but I'll keep the run of them." This posture is varied by getting up to walk the floor, his hands almost in his pockets, his regards admiring the folds of his gray trousers or the fit of his gaiters over the instep.

CARPENTER

Senator Matt H Carpenter in physique well balances Sumner. They are both large men, Mr Sumner having the advantage in height. Both have the same way of carrying their heads, lowered as if about to run a tilt against some enemy, but Senator Matt H Carpenter's fairly rests against his breast, his shoulders are so bent forward in an attitude of concentrated scheming. There is a dead weight of ambition in that man, whose cool impartial eyes and air weigh and measure everything that approaches them. It is not easy to read that bent involved face, but the traces of many passions are there. Woe to the man who makes Senator Carpenter his life long enemy. He has the Yorkshire nature to carry a stone in his pocket seven years, turn it and carry it seven years more, and send it against his foe at last. His face smoulders with pride, feeling and self will, strength and humor under and overlying all. Mr Carpenter and Mr Sumner have the deepest voices in the Senate, and it almost makes the spectators start when their elephantine noes in a vote come rumbling into the herd of light voices. They are the quietest men in the Senate also. That red headed Fowler of Tennessee, for whose presence in the Senate there seems to be not the slightest excuse I can find, goes pattering round and displaying his figure twenty times an hour, [illegible] or ands to pick up a pin from the carpet, or brush the dust off a fly's back on the wall, pleased to an excuse for showing the house that he is still extant, which they might not know without.

McDONALD

The Senator from Arkansas (McDonald) always arrests my eye by his swarthy semi Indian coloring among the white and gray faces about him. He is the same type as our General Logan, but larger in figure and more athletic. He is handsome after the Western manner, strong, active as if ready to ride and to shoot, of dashing carriage, with a strong compact head, resolute and shrewd in expression, but much softened by contact with the superior intellectual force of Eastern statesmen. His straight close cut hair is blue black, his brow wide and low, his jaw strong and eye keen, after the manner of the Montana and Nevada people as well.

REVELS

Meek, pleased, but knowing, Senator Revels keeps his hours and studies his statute book as assiduously as any school boy. He must be annoyed by the number of autograph books sent in for his signature daily. Indeed, these autograph hunters are a pest to every Congressman, and I suggest that they save trouble by sending each applicant a wash bill or receipt for mileage as an autograph.

Correspondence from Ash Swale

ASH SWALE, Polk Co, March 30, 1870.

Ed. OREGONIAN:

Ash Swale has no specially assigned place on the map of Oregon, yet a map without it would have a considerable hole in it. Like Paddy's flea, it is hard to locate on account of its being rather promiscuous, sometimes after a shower inundating an area as large as Lake Superior and then again as dry as a powder horn and as a water course invisible to the unassisted [illegible]. During the rainy season it is a prominent feature in the geography of Polk. In Summer on the contrary quite the reverse. Summer or Winter it is situated between Harvey's [illegible] and John Fale's bridge, but much more so during the latter season. For further particulars consult Dr Livingstone's Travels if you happen to have a copy handy; if not, write to me enclosing a three cent postage stamp and I can probably give you quite as much and certainly more information as could the geography [illegible].

But [illegible] topographical or geographical features [illegible] Ash Swale was not so much [illegible] as to speak [illegible] of the political features [illegible]. There are some Democrats here and like a good many Democrats elsewhere they have [illegible] their views as to the situation. Since the nominations at Albany they are not particularly talkative and they confess that the result of the election depends very much on the Republican convention to meet next week. If the latter bring out their best men it is conceded that there are not Democrats and guerillas enough in the State to save Slater's bacon nor Grover's salt. The Democrats in this county are subdivided into Long Hairs and Dirty Shirts. Of the latter Ben Hayden is the great Representative man and leader. In the late primary and county campaign the Dirty Shirts got the best of it, carrying everything with a high hand. They comprise the Brick Pomeroy element and of course have very little sympathy with those Democrats who aided or abetted the Union cause in the late war. But having carried the convention, they found not a little difficulty in selecting enough representative men for all the offices, men reckless and foolish enough to allow their names to be handed down as in favor of "equitable adjustment," or in plainer English, repudiation. The Dirty Shirts talk very loudly of preventing by force if necessary the negroes from voting, but they might spare themselves the use of such bombast, as the only negro families who used to reside here not willing to have their children grow up the mere equals of most of the Democratic families of Ash Swale have removed to other counties where they can enjoy the advantages of schools and churches. There is no danger of negro equality in this "deestreekt."

Without wishing to particularise invidiously, or to give undue notoriety to any individual on the Democratic ticket, I cannot help being amused when I reflect upon what sort of claims the nominee for Surveyor received his nomination. His father once upon a time was a chain carrier! The son of his father don't know how to do even that, and couldn't work a simple problem in the rudiments. The nominee for Assessor is no better, and if elected his work must be done by an assistant. Yet they are Dirty Shirt, and a Dirty Shirt is not without honor in Polk. There is a reminiscence of the parient of the candidate for Surveyor which I am tempted to relate. The said parient was elected a Justice of the Peace. As was eminently Democratic and customary on such occasions he got gloriously boosy and went home with his head full of whisky and undefined ideas of the new dignity which had been heaped upon him. Boosy parient called his dutiful wife to his assistance and directing her to listen and mark well the result of the experiment about to be tried, he stuck his head in a hogshead and bawled out at the top of his tipsy lungs, "Squire S[illegible]." Then popping up his head he anxiously asked, "Wife, how does that thar soun'?" History does not say what wife thought, but Squire S[illegible] finally went to bed fully satisfied that his new title sounded sufficiently sonorous and round.

In regard to matters just over the way in [illegible] hill it is generally believed that the Republicans will carry the county by a handsome majority. The Cops are talking of bringing out the old Chehalem, or "Grub End" war horse, Andy Shuck. It is said they urge his nomination on the ground that he is a great parliamentarian. Many years ago when in the Legislature, he used to rise and address the "cheer" thusly: "Mr Speakyer—I ot this yer old wheel hoss see that ar bill." But I opine that the old "wheel hoss won't see that ar bill" this year. Yours, PUCK.

IDAHO

[From the Owyhee Avalanche March 26.]

Pack trains and teams are in demand to transport freight from Kelton to various parts of Idaho.

Mining operations are already active on the South Fork of Salmon river, at Summit Flat and in Smith's gulch.

Geo Merrill & Co have established a stage line from Boise City to Baker City via El Dorado and Clark's creek.

It is rumored that Fort Boise will soon be abandoned, and that Colonel St Clair's command will be sent to Arizona.

Col Coppinger at Camp Three Forks will soon send out a scouting party to see if any Indians are still lurking around.

Work is being prosecuted in the Empire shaft, in the tunnel of the Peck & Porter and in the shaft of the corduroy mines. The Baxter is yielding good ore, ditto, the Golden Chariot, and work is going on as usual in the Ida Elmore, confidence in the mine being strong. The yield of the Golden Chariot for February was $35,050 or $90 per ton.

[From the Boise Statesman, March 26.]

Tassel, Shepherd & Co's Loon Creek expressman, for whose safety fears were entertained last week, came into Idaho City all right on Wednesday night.

A report came over from Silver last night that a ledge has been struck in the 500 foot level of the Poorman mine as rich as anything ever found in that remarkably rich mine.

It is now feared that Mr Chandler, the Rocky Bar expressman, is lost in the snow between Rocky Bar and Yuba. He left the former place several days ago to return the next day, since which time nothing has been heard from him. He was complaining of being unwell and some thought he had the mumps at the time, and his friends have some hope that he took shelter at some miner's cabin by the way or that he is still at Yuba or Atlanta City. The Mo[illegible] brothers who arrived here from Rocky Bar on Thursday evening brought word that a party of men had started from the Bar to hunt for him.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

From the Victoria Colonist and Evening News to the 30th ult we glean the following:

The Bates Dramatic Company is playing a very successful season.

The mails from Victoria for San Juan Island will be carried via Port Townsend in the future.

Sproat & Co have put the clipper bark Ad[illegible], 413 tons, on the berth at London for Victoria. The H B Co's bark Princess was loading on the 19th ult.

The owner of the new opposition Sound steamer Taconia has received the contract for carrying the United States mails between Olympia and Victoria. There will be a healthy opposition.

Friends of the Hon W A G Young, ex Colonial Secretary of this colony, received letters by the last mail announcing the safe arrival of that gentleman at Jamaica, where he has assumed the duties of his office.

The lots comprising the town site of Granville on Burrard Inlet are to be sold by auction on the 4th prox. The history of government town sites in this colony is not one well calculated to [illegible] confidence [illegible] view of probable future development upon the margin of harbor of Burrard Inlet it appears probable that Granville lots will be in demand.

On Thursday a German took passage at Seattle W T by the steamer California for Port Townsend. He appeared to be under the influence of drink, but when dinner was announced he ate a very hearty meal and soon after the steamer left Port Townsend for Victoria he dropped in some [illegible] the deck. Upon the arrival of the steamer at this port he was conveyed to the Royal Hospital where he died on Friday evening. The body was yesterday identified as that of George Lokmut, a native of Germany aged [illegible] years. The medical attendant pronounced the cause of death to be apoplexy.

Ho! young men who revel in fashion and wear store clothes, ye prudent men who buy goods to get the worth of your cash, ye old men who buy goods to last the remainder of your lives, or any other man or boy who wants to buy the cheapest and best clothing, go to K[illegible] & Fishel, who have just opened the largest stock of Gents' Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the city. They have all the late styles of spring goods and propose to sell at rates that will please everybody.

AN A[illegible] MAN.—[illegible] one of our friends who is temporarily laid up by an attack of rheumatism [illegible] because of his general [illegible] but [illegible] always trying [illegible] [illegible] table and [illegible] with a new [illegible] he thought would enable him to do [illegible] book [illegible] account. Saturday being the general day for making collections our friend [illegible] funds where [illegible] expenses seemed a little [illegible] to pay [illegible] presented to him [illegible] and his mind may have [illegible] an ordinary occasion been rather more agitated than [illegible] the book presented to him by madame [illegible] glanced over its table of contents, saw who the author was and then said [illegible] were to [illegible] went [illegible] a day start in [illegible] and then would insist that for reading [illegible] hour system the days [illegible] the patient wife. This was [illegible] but she said nothing. Some hours afterwards the wife said to her husband "Dear, why don't you present yourself as a candidate for Congress?" [illegible] no qualifications. Why should I [illegible] yes you have some for the station [illegible] your language and actions are truly parliamentary. When bills are presented you order them [illegible] on the table or you make a motion [illegible] though often out of order you are still supported by the chair and you often poke [illegible] improve the [illegible] Friend had a hearty laugh, for [illegible] and we shall expect the first time [illegible] weeks [illegible] increased good health from this time to hear of [illegible] would not accept of a nomination for [illegible] but yesterday he fell satisfied that the Congress [illegible] disposition of a patient should be to enjoy a joke which is about as good as medicine in some cases.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DELEGATES.—The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department met on Saturday evening last, President Halsock in the chair.

Present—Messrs Al Zieber, Ball, Mayer, Hardenbergh, Lyon, Ed F Albright.

A report was received from the Committee on Certificates instructing the Secretary to issue exempt certificates to Messrs J H Lappeus, Henry Gans, J Ewry, D M Hendee and P M Tample of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company No 1; [illegible] Joseph Buchtel, L Waterman, S Sherlock, W I Leonard, T Rogers and Adam Steander, of Multnomah Engine Company No. 2, and F Opitz of Protection Engine Company No. 4, which was adopted.

The application for an exempt certificate for Mr A B Richardson from Protection Engine Company No 4 was referred to the appropriate committee.

A regulation was offered by Mr Lyon in reference to the management of the Firemen's Cemetery which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Bill of Mr Kiernan for $25 for care of Cemetery grounds for the past year, was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The Secretary reported the receipt of $93, net proceeds of the Benefit by the Gregorias, which on motion was set apart for a certificate fund.

On motion Board adjourned.

ROAD TO THE NORTH PLAINS.—We learn that [illegible] efforts are being made by residents on the Barnes mountain road, which is a continuation of B[illegible] to improve that road to the plains, this summer. For this purpose subscriptions are being solicited, and already about $400 has been subscribed by the neighborhood. It is [illegible] that about $2 000 will be [illegible] in this and Washington county, which will over lay the road the entire way. The road, with the exception of a short distance near King's, is now laid over easy grades to the Washington county line on the [illegible] and the road beyond is [illegible] avoiding the hills. It is claimed that when completed it will be the best road to Washington county.

EXCITEMENT.—A large crowd of [illegible] people were congregated, almost all day long, on Saturday, at the corner of Alder and First [illegible] for what purpose however, very many people were unable to ascertain. When the matter first attracted our attention we [illegible] the [illegible] of the crowd that a portion of the effects of the 15th Amendment saloon had [illegible] out into the open air as in 1849, but upon a closer [illegible] we found that it was nothing at all [illegible] ing to society or to the modesty, but that it was [illegible] a shocking affair, produced by a galvanic battery. The boys had considerable fun out of some Celestials who wished to test the machinery.

NO PARTICULARS.—A few days since Oregonians were advised by telegraph that Capt. Bolles had been presented with a testimonial by the Board of Underwriters for gallantry in [illegible] his vessel the Ajax into the port of San Francisco on the late trip and that other officers of the [illegible] had been presented with testimonials of worth from the passengers. Further than these brief reports we have no information, but as the Montana is expected to day we hope to hear all about it.

REAL ESTATE.—The following sales of real estate were made matters of record at the county clerk's office on Saturday last: Webster L Stab[illegible] to John and William M Switzler, lot 1, in section 29, and fractional lots 6 and 7 in section 19 and lots 1 and 2 in section 30, in township 2 north, range 1 east, containing in all 156 acres [illegible] $200.

Allen Hartness to Adella J Hartness, south ½ of block 37—lots 1, 2, 3 and 4—$1.

MISAPPLIED.—The man who was arrested at the fire on Thursday evening for stealing, gave his name as Rankin. Whether this was his real name or not is unknown. At all events, it has been misapplied and the odium has partly attached to our friend James Rankin, at Reed & Stimson's mill. It should be known by all that Mr James Rankin has a reputation which places such transactions in his name entirely out of the question.

RATIFICATION OF THE 15TH AMENDMENT.—We understand that the colored citizens of this city have finally concluded their arrangements for a celebration of the promulgation of the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and that the exercise will take place to-morrow afternoon and evening. Mr Riley, a colored man will deliver an address on this occasion at the Court House.

WHITE'S HOTEL.—We hear of responsible parties who are now negotiating for the opening of a first class hotel in the fine brick building of Mr Richard White in this city. If nothing intervenes, more than is known at present, the probabilities are that within a very few days the negotiations will terminate and the gentlemen will then announce themselves to the public.

APPRAISING STOCK.—An inventory of the stock of goods damaged by the fire of Thursday evening, is being made by Messrs J H Witherell, [illegible] Kraemer and J McHenry, under appointment of Messrs C P Ferry & Co, agents for the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, which Company had issued a policy on the stock to Mr [illegible] Beller for $10 000.

CONCERT.—On Wednesday evening next at the First Presbyterian Church a concert will be given in aid of the Ladies' Society under the direction of Mr J H Wyatt by the present and former choir. Several [illegible] and talented vocalists besides, have volunteered their services for this occasion and a grand musical treat may be expected.

RE-ELECTED.—We are informed that Rev Dr Isaac Schwab was recently re-elected to preside for the ensuing [illegible] years as Minister for the Congregation Beth Israel [illegible]. At the beginning of this year there were eighty five members. The Synagogue is situated on Fifth street [illegible] is built of Oak and is capable of seating 250 people.

[illegible]—Arguments [illegible] opposing counsel in the case of [illegible] were made in the [illegible] Court before Judge W[illegible] on Friday and Saturday when the case was taken under advisement [illegible] The motion was [illegible] report of [illegible] Durham [illegible] made to the court.

FOR [illegible]—The [illegible] bark [illegible] which [illegible] Point, where she will freight with lumber for San Francisco, left this port on Saturday morning. The Jo[illegible] was destined for Cementville.

DISTRICT COURT.—The U S District Court, Judge M P Deady, will meet this morning at the usual hour.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

AN AID TO MEDICINE.—One of our friends who is temporarily laid up by an attack of rheumatism is having a sorry time of it because of his general activity, which renders the confinement almost as bad as his complaint. His wife, who is really one of Heaven's best gifts, is always trying to render his condition more comfortable and on Saturday last presented her husband with a new book, which she thought would enable him to divert his attention to a profitable account. Saturday being the general day for making collections, our friend, although not in want for funds wherewith to pay his current expenses seemed a little annoyed at having such bills presented to him in his present condition, and his mind may have been rather more agitated than on ordinary occasions. However, he took the book presented to him by madame, glanced over its table of contents, saw who the author was, and then said: "Do you think I can read that? If I were to start in on that book I should want $5 a day for reading it—and then I would insist that the days be rated upon the 8 hour system." This was considerable for the patient wife, but she said nothing. Some hours afterwards the wife said to her husband 'Dear, why don't you put yourself as a candidate for Congress?' "Why should I," he inquired, "I've no qualifications for the station." "Oh, yes you have," said she, "your language and actions are truly parliamentary. When bills are presented you order them to be laid on the table or you make a motion to rise, though often out of order you are still supported by the chair, and you often poke your nose into measures calculated to improve the constitution." Friend had a hearty laugh, for the first time in three weeks, and we shall expect to hear of increased good health from this time on. He would not accept of a nomination for Congress, but yesterday he felt satisfied that the disposition of a patient should be to enjoy a joke which is as good as medicine in some cases.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DELEGATES.—The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department met on Saturday evening last, President Hallock in the chair. Present—Messrs. Al. Zieber, Ball, Meyer, [illegible] Lyon, Ed F Albright. A report was received from the Committee on Certificates, instructing the Secretary to issue exempt certificates to Messrs J H Lappeus, Henry Gans, J. Kerr, D M. Rogers and Adam Stanley of Multnomah Engine Company No 2, and [illegible] of Protection Engine Company No 4, which was adopted. The application for an exempt certificate for Mr. A. E. Richardson, from Protection Engine Co. No. 4, was referred to the appropriate committee. A resolution was offered by Mr Lyon in reference to the management of the Firemen's Cemetery, which was referred to the Committee on Ju[illegible]. The bill of Mr. Kleinian for $25 for care of Cemetery grounds for the past year, was referred to the Committee on Finance. The Secretary reported the receipt of $93, net proceeds of the Benefit by the Gregories, which, as ordered, was set apart for a certificate fund. The Board adjourned.

ROAD TO THE NORTH PLAIN.—We learn that efforts are being made by residents on the [illegible] to repair the road which is a continuation of [illegible] to improve that road to the plains, this [illegible]. For this purpose subscriptions are being raised, and already about $400 has been subscribed by the neighborhood. It is expected that $2,000 will be raised in this and Washington county, which will cross-lay the road the entire way. The road, with the exception of a [illegible] near King's, is cross laid over easy [illegible] to the Washington county line on the [illegible] and the road beyond is relocated [illegible] the hills. It is claimed that when completed it will be the best road to Washington county.

CONCERT.—On Wednesday evening next, at the First Presbyterian Church, a concert will be given in aid of the Ladies' Society under the direction of Mr J B Wyatt by the present and [illegible] choir. Several popular and talented [illegible] for this occasion, have volunteered their services and a grand musical treat may be expected.

RE-ELECTED.—We are informed that Rev Dr Isaac Schwab was yesterday re-elected to preside for the coming two years as Minister for the Congregation Beth Israel, of this city. At the beginning of this year there were eighty five members. The Synagogue is located on Fifth street, at the corner of Oak, and is capable of seating 250 people.

SUBMITTED.—Arguments of opposing counsel in the case of D T Stimson vs Estes S Stimson were made in the Circuit Court before Judge W W Upton, on Friday and Saturday, when the case was taken under advisement by the Court. The motion was to set aside the report of the referee, Durham, previously made to the court.

FOR OAK POINT.—The Josie McNear with the bark Live Yankee in tow for Oak Point—where she will freight with lumber for San Francisco—left this port on Saturday morning. The Josie was destined for Comentville.

DISTRICT COURT.—U S District Court, Judge M. P. Deady, will meet this morning at the usual hour.

THE WHITE HOUSE.—Wm O Bruen, one of the popular young men of Portland, for many years in business here, has leased the White House at the upper terminus of the Macadamized road and will soon be installed there for the purpose of accommodating visitors to that popular summer evening resort. He can fill the bill.

AMUSEMENTS.—The boys of this city, perhaps deeming it important that at some place of amusement should be opened, have started an amateur theater at the corner of Second and [illegible] streets. Doors are open at seven o'clock. Performance commences at half past eight. Admission [illegible] cents; reserved seats twenty five cents.

CEDAR LOGS.—The [illegible] brought down a large raft of [illegible] cedar logs in tow, arrived from Cathlamet on Saturday evening. These logs are furnished to Estes & Stimson by Mr A Kinney, late of this city, and are certainly about as fine appearing material of that kind as could be asked for by mill men.

ARRIVAL.—In the proper column this morning will be found the marine news per steamer California. The question as to where so many passengers came from at this time of year by that route leads us to thinking times must be very dull in the regions about Victoria.

DISSOLVED.—As will be observed by the notice elsewhere, the firm of J B Congle & Co has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr Ferret retires and the business will be continued by Mr J B Congle at the old stand.

MODERN SOCIETY REVIEWED.—The subject for the lecture this evening, by Mr John Arnoup is "Modern Society Reviewed." Doors will be open at Oro Fino Theater at [illegible] P M.

PLAZA CONCERT.—The concert at the Plaza on Saturday afternoon by the 23d Infantry Band was about as well attended as usual. Music good, everybody happy, weather magnificent.

SCHOOL MEETING.—The annual school meeting will be held this evening at the Central School house. Those interested in our public schools will please remember it and attend.

WORK BEGUN.—The work of laying stone for the foundation of the new buildings on Front street adjacent to the stores of Messrs Allen & Lewis begun on Friday last.

IRON ORE.—The Alert on Saturday brought to the Portland Gas Light Company twelve sacks of iron ore from a bed up the river which is to be tested for its quality.

DEPARTED.—The tug As[illegible] steamed away yesterday morning having in tow the bark Webfoot, Capt Gage, for San Francisco.

ANNIVERSARY BALL.—The first annual ball of the Ancient Order of Druids will come off this evening at Turn Verein Hall.

The Loss of the Oneida

GRAPHIC LETTER FROM W. W. CROWNINSHIELD DESCRIBING THE CATASTROPHE—HOW HE FORTUNATELY ESCAPED.

[From the Boston Transcript, March 10.]

We are permitted to copy the following interesting extracts from a letter written to his sister by Mr W. W. Crowninshield, the clerk of Capt Williams of the United States steamer Oneida. It will be observed that Mr Crowninshield got out of the cabin window over the stern of the poop deck, and thence gained the quarter deck and bridge previous to the vessel's sinking. This seems to render it conclusive that the Bombay did not go entirely over the Oneida, but must have backed away from her before continuing on her heedless course.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Jan 26, 1870.

The Oneida is no more! but thank Heaven I am one of the survivors of an awful catastrophe. We started two days ago with our ship for Hong Kong and in two hours our good ship was at the bottom—having been run into by an English steamer belonging to the Peninsula and Oriental Company. All are drowned but Dr. Studdards, Mr Yates the boatswain, fifty two men and myself.

My escape was most miraculous. At the time of the collision I was asleep in the cabin on the transom, at about 10 minutes to 7 in the evening. The steamer struck us near the forepart of the cabin. I found myself on the floor, just coming to from being stunned, and on opening my eyes I saw the whole stern was out off and all exposed to the starlight.

I had sense enough to climb out of the stern over to the spar deck, and to look down into the cabin to see if Capt Williams was there, but could not see him. I seized a cap within reach and put it on with the strap under my chin. I had on a thick suit, overcoat and boots. I went to the quarter-deck, met Paymaster Tullock, and inquired how the disaster happened. I met Capt Williams and told him how serious the damage was, he was going on the bridge. I spoke to one or two more officers and finding the ship was sinking, I went into the main rigging, and in five minutes our good ship commenced to sink rapidly; I was ten feet above the rail when she had sunk so as to have the water reach me. I pushed myself as far away from the ship as I could, but the vortex carried me down, and it was a long time ere I came to the surface. When I did I saw nothing of the ship, but many heads above the water. I saw one of our boats near by me and had just strength enough to reach her. I was pulled on board exhausted, and found Mr Yates with thirty seven of the crew on board. We steered for the nearest land four miles away as well as I could judge. I was nearly frozen and soon had a chill but after a while we came near the beach and made a landing in the surf, where I was just able to get ashore, being very stiff with the cold. We reached a Japanese village, and found shelter and rest for the night, twenty-eight miles from Yokohama.

My heart is too full to tell you more of myself, although all I had went down in the ship. Capt Williams acted as bravely as he has always done. He would not leave his post on the bridge although he was almost pulled away, and when urged by Mr Yates replied, "I go down with my ship." A petty officer urging him to go, he grasped the iron rail and said, "No, this is my place, and here I remain." God bless him! the country and the world have lost a noble officer who died rather than leave what he considered his post of duty. This heroic conduct was followed by every officer and man on board the ship; not a soul who had a station left it but faced death in such a manner as makes me feel proud we were Americans, and were it not for you all at home I could wish I was locked in their arms. Through all that I have passed during my life nothing has made such an impression upon me. I can see each and every face of those who have gone, and they all loved each other so much! They were proud of their country and took such interest in its prosperity! In that devoted band there were many thoughts but only one heart.

The Oneida was the favorite ship of the station. Could you see what the popular feeling was here from every one, you would think that all loved the ship and her officers better than I did. We left the port under the most favorable auspices, the ship homeward bound. All the men of war cheered us, the merchant ships dipped their flags, telling us of the good wishes for a safe and pleasant passage home. But in one hour we were facing death as only Americans can do; for not a murmur nor a cry was heard when the good ship Oneida (which had done her duty through the war) was sinking. And every one knew that meant death. Through all my experience during the war I saw nothing to compare with it. But I cannot write more—my heart is too full. "Shall I ever get over it?" is what I ask myself.

MONDAY, Jan 31, 1870.

The investigation drags slowly along. Last evening they found the ship and have marked the spot. The ends of the masts are visible a mere foot or two at low water. No bodies have been found yet, but it is hardly time for any to appear. The water and weather being so cold. In a day or two we shall have the sad duty of identifying them as the Japanese fishermen have orders under penalty of death to bring all effects saved to Yokohama.

What does Reason say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does. The next question is what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard. Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possesses strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether it be [illegible] and constitutional or [illegible] with our habits or occupations [illegible]. The venom of [illegible] as reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. [illegible] escape the fevers, bilious [illegible] disturbances of the bowels, and their serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements it is necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be in [illegible] condition. Upon the amount of resisting power [illegible] the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE [illegible] and regularity to the most important functions of the body that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Findings in the Oneida Bombay Case

The following, as reported in the Japan Herald of February 23d, were the findings of the magnanimous and unprejudiced (God save the mark!) Britons who sat as a Naval Court of Inquiry on the Oneida disaster

We find, from the evidence before us that on a dark but starlight night, the 24th of January last, the steamship Bombay, through no fault of her commander, Mr Eyre, came into collision with the United States corvette Oneida in the close vicinity of Saratoga spit, situated some ten miles from Yokohama

That the effect of the collision on the Bombay was comparatively slight

That guns were fired from the Oneida as signals of distress from ten to fifteen minutes after the collision took place

That the reports of these guns were not heard nor the flashes seen on board the Bombay

That after the collision the fact of the Bombay having been hailed from the Oneida, was reported to Mr Eyre

That Mr Eyre only knew that some of the upper works of the Oneida had been carried away, and was unaware of the amount of injury sustained by her

That the Bombay was a mail steamer carrying passengers and cargo, and was built in compartments, only one of which was reported to him as making water fast

That the whole extent of the injury sustained by the Bombay was not ascertained until the next day after the collision

That immediately after the collision it was not considered to be serious, for had it been so it is natural to suppose that the knowledge of the pilot would have been availed of, and the Bombay run on to the Saratoga spit.

That, in our opinion, no danger to the Bombay, her passengers or cargo, was apprehended by Mr Eyre:

That from the questions he asked the pilot, he evidently thought that the Oneida might possibly have sustained serious injury

That he waited at the most, five minutes after the collision to see if signals of distress were made from the Oneida

That after his ship again proceeded he gave no orders that a lookout should be kept in the direction of the Oneida:

That had he or any one else been keeping a proper lookout, the flashes of the Oneida's guns must have been seen though the reports might not have been heard.

Under all these circumstances, it becomes our duty to pronounce whether, in our opinion, Mr Eyre was justified in proceeding on his voyage without ascertaining whether the Oneida was in need of assistance.

We recognize the fact that he was placed in a position of great difficulty and doubt, and in circumstances under which he was called upon to decide promptly; but we regret to have to record it as our opinion that he acted hastily and ill advisedly, in that, instead of waiting and endeavoring to render assistance to the Oneida, he, without having reason to believe that his own vessel was in a perilous condition, proceeded on his voyage.

This conduct constitutes, in our opinion, a breach of the 33d section of the 63d chapter of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, of 1862, and we therefore feel called upon to suspend Mr. Eyre's certificate for six calender months from this date.

A California paper, commenting on the findings of this Commission, says:

"The Commission, it will be observed, was composed exclusively of Britons of that proud class who never tire of vaunting their peculiar and extraordinary love of "fair play." The brutality, cruelty, meanness and cowardice displayed by Captain Eyre, in running down the Oneida, murdering her gallant crew, boasting of his achievement, and then denying the facts of the case under oath when punishment seemed threatening, are eclipsed by the perfidious findings of these infamous Commissioners. It was in proof that the steward of the Bombay, immediately after the collision, saw that a hole had been cut into the Oneida at the water's edge, so that he could see room in the officers' cabin carrying the sick on deck; it was in proof that Master Yates hailed the Bombay and announced the dangerous disaster, and that the Oneida's whistles were blown, guns fired and signal lights of distress exhibited; it was in proof that one hundred and fifteen as gallant human beings as ever trod a quarter deck, descended to a watery grave with a heroism only equalled by that of the crew of the historic Cumberland, as a result of acts performed by this man's order and under his direction; it was in proof, on the testimony of more than one of his own officers and men, that questions which he asked showed that he apprehended grave injury had been done to the ill-fated vessel, and yet steamed at full speed directly away from her; it was in proof, on the testimony of an English [illegible], that this modern Haynan, after the collision, boasts that he had "cut the whole quarter off a d—n Yankee frigate, and served her bloody well right," and on the strength of this and a [illegible] of similar damning testimony, this model Board, composed of five educated and [illegible] English gentlemen (!) maunder over seafaring [illegible]; in bated breath and with evident reluctance administer a mild rebuke, and [illegible] venture to punish the inhuman monster by [illegible] of his certificate for the full period of six calendar months!" Can the reader [illegible] of a more dastardly endorsement of an [illegible] infamy?

THE JOSHUA SEARS ESTATE—WHO MADE IT AND WHO WILL GET IT.

[Boston Cor. Chicago Journal]

The trustees of the Joshua Sears estate complain that they are annoyed by newspaper men and others relative to the estate connected with the Sears property. The fact that a young man about fifteen years of age, the only child of Sears, is largely interested in the property, has caused a good many people to become inquisitive on the subject. Joshua Sears died in 1857, possessed of about $2,000,000 worth of property in this city, and it is now worth about $6,000,000 Sears came to Boston from Yarmouth, Massachusetts, just before the late war with Great Britain, and went into business with the view of amassing $20,000, at the end of which time he intended to retire to private life. After he got that sum he thought he was very poor. Possessed of remarkable shrewdness and industry, and with very frugal habits, "he made money like dirt," in the commission business, until he could draw $800,000 and not disturb his banking account. Sears was a peculiar character in his way, and was every inch a Cape Coder. He was always off-handed, blunt, not always strictly commercially square but not dishonest, however. He seemed always so absorbed in his business that the god Cupid made no impression upon his heart till he was past sixty years old, and then it was he sought a wife, more for the sake of having an heir to his large possessions than on account of any passion of love that burned in his bosom.

He married a Brewster lady of thirty-five, who died in a short time after the birth of the child, in consequence of the neglect of her husband to procure sufficient wood to keep her warm, he being "too poor" to provide it. Sears died in an attic in South Boston, in the presence of only one person, an unhappy man regretting that he had not sixty years more in which to make money. Young Sears is being educated in Germany When he becomes of age he will receive $30,000 and at thirty-five he will have control of the entire property, but use of only a portion of it, receiving stated sums from the income, when he will at that age manage the estates, but share only a portion of them, the terms of the will giving a certain portion of the property to two brothers. It has been generally erroneously supposed that young Sears is the sole heir, but this is not so. When he arrives at his majority the property will be worth at least $10,500,000 The income is yearly reduced to real estate in Boston Old Joshua never had much faith in stocks or paper representing values. Lands and buildings are deemed the safest investments The city tax on the property last year was in the neighborhood of $65,000 The trustees, three of them have a "fat" thing of it, they realize some $20,000 each for the trouble of looking after this property Young Sears has none of the traits that distinguished his father, and is said by those who know that he is not a precocious youth He may turn out, however, to be a smart young man, but it will require a large business mind to manage such a vast business property.

Letter from Mr Davenport

SILVERTON, March [illegible], 1870

EDITOR OREGONIAN

In the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of Saturday March 26th, I read last evening, for the first time that C. P. Chapman has published a challenge to T. W. Davenport, of Marion county to meet him in Salem on Monday to discuss certain points connected with the doings of the last Legislature I infer from the rest of the paragraph that the Monday appointed by the Colonel was the 21st inst about eight days before I got the notice and further that as the challenge was published in a Democratic paper (I suppose as it did not appear in the OREGONIAN or Statesman) it was intended for the Colonel's Democratic brethren, and not for me. If it had not been for the editorial note in the OREGONIAN I should have remained in blissful ignorance of "the challenge"

Well the time is past the Colonel and myself are whole in wind, limb and reputation, and the good people of Salem saved from a merciless boring at our hands, or tongues. What a mercy! Blessed be rain and mud the mosses, wafers, slaps and sties that lie between Home Hill and the State capital or the postoffice

If I had known of the Colonel's challenge in time it is probable that I could not have attended as this is the plowing and planting season, when the true "knights of the horny hand" must stick to business, and not waste their time in political discussions with those who are at most but honorary members of the order If the Colonel were a real member of the laboring class he would not have published such a challenge at such a time and from this I must reason that he knows but little about the real interests of the farmer Horace Greeley would not have made such a blunder

The busy season will soon be over, when, if the Colonel still desires to discuss with me certain points connected with the doings of the last Legislature, and will come up to Salem, I shall be inclined to yield to his wishes, provided these points are of real importance to the public I am of the opinion, however, that those certain points will not weigh very heavily upon the Colonel's mind since Grover has been nominated on the Democratic ticket for Governor.

In case we should proceed to discuss certain points I would like to enquire of the Colonel what book or papers we could use for authority, as it would hardly be considered profitable for each disputant to rely upon his own recollections of what was done in that session as the basis or support of argument

We could not establish much in that way Would my friend the Colonel insist upon the House Journal as being the true record of what occurred there?

I should like to hear his opinion about the suppressions and falsifications of portions of the Journal by the Democratic authorities (probably) who had charge of it

If the Journal has been doctored up, since the session, to suit the Colonel's case, it were well enough to know the fact before we commence any discussion in which the book will be quoted as authority.

T W. DAVENPORT

CURRENT NOTES

Mrs Morris, the new Justice of the Peace in Wyoming Territory, was called upon in her first case to fine her predecessor for refusing to deliver up the archives. She, with great propriety, ruled that as she was an interested party, the case did not come within her jurisdiction.

Returns to the Bureau of Statistics show that the exports of wheat for the year 1869 were 34,300,749 bushels, value $46,413,633, for 1868 were 12,927,412 bushels, value $21 786,116 Cotton exports for 1869 were 722,618,928 lbs. value $187,762,497, against 786,600,776 lbs in 1868, value $165,962,187.

Somebody has revived this anecdote about John Phœnix: "He once hailed a German who was driving a baker's wagon on Montgomery street, San Francisco, with, 'Hallo! I'll take one.' 'Vat you takes?' said the Teuton, pulling up. 'A baked eagle,' said Phœnix, pointing to 'Eagle Bakery' painted on the wagon"

A prominent member of the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs has written a letter to General Sheridan, in which he says. "The Indian is bound to have bread or scalps, but he apparently prefers the scalp. While upon us is forced the alternative to feed or fight, I would prefer to feed; but if it must be fight, then let it be thorough and in earnest."

A forthcoming life of Tom Paine will endeavor to clear him from the charge of atheism His will reads thus: "The last will and testament of me, Thomas Paine. Reposing confidence in my Creator, God, and in no other being, for I know of no other, nor believe in any other, I, Thomas Paine, of the State of New York, author of the work entitled 'Common Sense,'" etc.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, April 3d, 1870

No change in the gold quotations.

Legal Tenders are firm at 89½a90c

The trade of yesterday was generally pretty fair in all lines of merchandise. Produce, as for a long time, dull No arrivals worth mention.

We observe in all our interior exchanges, expressions of belief that a lively trade will open within the next few weeks There is, everywhere, in the towns a disposition to improve and the indications of growth the coming season are most encouraging Of the farmers it is said that they are getting well to work, and that they will sow a greater breadth of land to wheat, oats barley, etc, than ever before, From all the mining districts, the news continues encouraging, and miners, traders and ranchmen are looking confidently forward to a successful season Taking the accounts from all sources into consideration, we are certainly justified in the belief that the summer will prove better for trade than either of the past two or three seasons

By request and for the benefits of all business men, we publish here the following caution from the Assessor of Revenue

INTERNAL REVENUE DEPARTMENT
ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, Portland April 2, 1870

I would hereby caution the public against purchasing any machine for cancelling of Internal Revenue stamps mentioned and described in schedule B, Internal Revenue law or cancelling them in any other method or manner than as provided in Circular No 82, issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated Washington Feb 10th, 1870, which circular was published in most of the papers in Oregon during the month of last March The mode of cancellation as provided in said Circular is by writing on feet the initials of his name date, etc, or by using "Wheeler's Patent Canceller" The date when this mode of cancellation takes effect, is on and after May 1st, 1870

We call upon all Republicans to remain firmly united and under no circumstances to allow disorganizing influences to divide and endanger the success of the Republican party. Everything now indicates the success of our party at the ensuing election

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering from a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates pretended patient's letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
